Including You?

Majority Shy In Poll Taxes

Have you paid your poll tax yet? If you haven't, you're among the majority in Randall County. With major election races coming up this year, only 2,333 poll tax receipts had been issued up to Tuesday afternoon.

Tax Assessor-Collector Bill Money figures that some 7,500 should be sold this year.

Up for election in the county this year are the offices of commissioners for precincts 1 and 3, sheriff, criminal district attorney and tax assessor-collector.

State and federal elections will cover a multitude of offices, but unless more Randall County citizens pay their poll taxes, the elections shouldn't cause much of a stir here.

In addition to giving the right to vote, the poll tax money is broken down to several funds. One dollar of the $1.75 goes to the schools, 50 cents to the general fund and 25 cents to the county road and bridge fund.

Incidentally, not paying your poll tax does not exempt you from serving on petit juries.

PTA Hobby Show Thursday Night

Hobbies of every description will be displayed at the annual P-TA Hobby Show Thursday night at the elementary school auditorium.

Entries in the show were accepted until Tuesday afternoon by Conway Kuykendall, director. The show is being held in connection with the regular P-TA meeting.

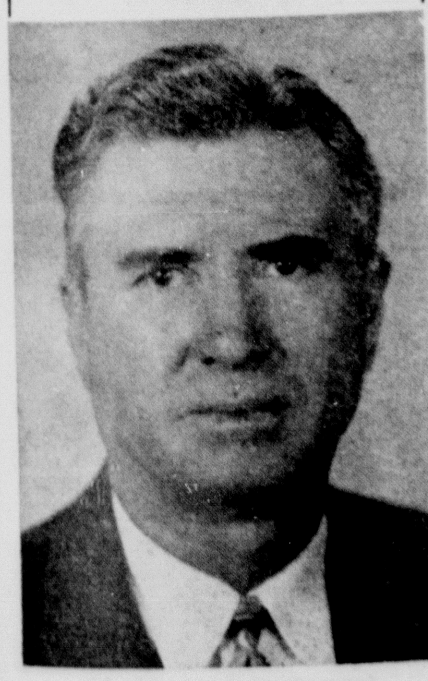
An example of the hobbies which might be seen in the show, which begins at 7:45 p. m., is displayed in The Canyon News window. Kuykendall's collection of miniature automobiles is in the window. Kuykendall makes the cars himself.

Posters for the show have been made by the students in the school art department. Claudia Neelley is teacher in the department.

Music for the program has been arranged by Herman Demus. Meditation will be by Mrs. Alma Perkins.

Refreshments are to be served during the hobby show. Everyone in the community is invited to attend.

Officeholder



GLENN W. DOWLEN

Dowlen Announces For Re-Election

Glenn W. Dowlen has announced his candidacy for re-election to the office of county commissioner of precinct 3.

"I appreciate the help and cooperation you have given me while I have been in office," he said.

"With your continued support I will continue to serve you to the best of my ability.

"I sincerely solicit your vote and influence in the coming election," he concluded.

Cubs At It Again! Save Up Your Paper

Cub Scout Pack 31 had good luck the first time around, so the members have decided to stage a second paper collection drive.

The scouts will pick up newspapers and magazines during the afternoon of Feb. 4. They are asking that people save their magazines and old newspapers, bundle them up and put them outside on Feb. 4.

The scouts will clean out garages, also. Anyone who has old paper stored in their garage may get a free cleaning job by contacting Roland Black at the chamber of commerce office.

In the first paper drive, the cubs collected 5,160 pounds of magazines and 3,260 pounds of newspapers. Proceeds from the drives will go toward defraying the expenses of the annual Blue and Gold banquet next month.

John Steven Brandon and Phillip Lee Parker brush away on the calves they will show in the Randall County Junior Livestock Show here Saturday. The boys are keeping the calves in a lot at the south edge of Canyon.

Dallas Man Killed In Plane Crash

A pilot tentatively identified as Alexander A. Lassberg of Dallas was killed in the crash of his light plane about 6 p. m. Tuesday on the Nance ranch east of Canyon.

The wreckage was discovered about 7:30 a. m. today by N. G. McClendon and Percy Hawthorne, Mill Iron ranch hands. The crash was seen by Charles Wilkinson, who lives about 1½ miles east of the crash scene.

The plane had been missing since Tuesday night. The pilot had reported by radio to the CAA in Amarillo at 5:51, asking for directions to Tradewind airport.

Wilkinson said he had been out feeding and drove into home about 6 p. m. He said he saw the plane headed straight down, and thought it had hit the ground. He said he didn't hear the motors.

Early this morning, McClendon and Hawthorne went into the pasture to feed the cattle there. The animals were in a group at the top of the hill in the pasture, and McClendon began honking the horn to attract the cattle.

When they walked away from the wreckage, he and Hawthorne could see the plane.

It was rolled into a ball. The scene was about three quarters of a mile south of the Nance Ranch headquarters. Sheriff L. S. Johnston, his deputies and neighboring ranchers had searched several hours last night, but had failed to find the wrecked plane.

Four Purchases Okayed by Court

The Randall County Commissioners Court approved four right of way purchases yesterday in a special meeting.

Approved were purchases from J. R. Damron and Howard T. Drake on the expressway and from Alex Bixwell and E. B. Brown on the highway to Happy.

The commissioners also approved purchase of a three-acre tract from L. G. Campbell for use as a storage and work area in precinct 3.

The court authorized County Clerk Tommy Lair to purchase additional election equipment to take care of the needs of the four new voting precincts established last fall.

In a meeting last week the commissioners employed the law firm of James G. Lumpkin to prosecute condemnation proceedings that might occur in connection with the purchase of expressway right of way. The commissioners agreed to pay the firm a $1,500 retainer fee plus an additional $100 per day per man for work actually done preparing briefs and appearing in court.

The county right of way agents, Lanham Nelson and A. C. Youngblood, met last Wednesday with appraisers representing Taylor and Sons in an effort to settle on a price for the Taylor land needed for the expressway.

The Taylor and Sons estimate of value for their property was almost a quarter-million dollars. The figure given was $237,000.

Nelson and Youngblood had offered $55,000.

No agreement was reached at the meeting between Nelson, Youngblood and the Taylor and Sons representatives, T. H. McDonald of Amarillo and J. A. Gallagher of Los Angeles, Calif., associated with the American Right of Way and Appraisal Company.

Conner Park Fund To Be Helped By Buffalo-Exes Game Saturday

A colorful array of former West Texas State College basketball stars will challenge the Border Conference-leading Buffaloes Saturday night in a benefit tilt for Canyon's park playground fund.

The game, which could turn out to be a thriller, will start at 8 p. m. in WT's fieldhouse.

Expected back to appear again in Buffalo maroon and white are some of the greatest cagers of the Southwest, including such All-Americans as Joe Fortenberry, George Ray Colvin, J. W. Malone, and Troy Burrus.

The All-Americas, teamed with such rugged players as Bill Clifton, Bill Price, Mose Hale, Nolan Poteet, Bill Miller, Sammy Malone and Charles Barnard, will play a regulation game against Coach W. A. Miller's squad which has won nine and lost four for the season.

Sponsored by the Canyon Rotary Club to purchase playground equipment for Canyon's year-old Conner Park, the annual alumni game was begun last year.

Tickets are being sold by Rotarians and will be on sale at the box office Saturday night at the fieldhouse.

Rotarians will make a house-to-house canvass in Canyon Friday from 5 until 6 p. m. Admission is $1.00 for adults and 50 cents for children.

Persons who do not plan to attend the game are urged to donate to the fund.

Freshman coach Borden Price will direct actions for the exes, while Coach Miller will handle his present team.

Price will select his starting lineup Saturday night, while Miller will probably start the five men who opened last Saturday's game against Arizona State.

Sparked by the sensational shooting of Rookie Rogers, the Buffs will rely on big Ray Burrus at center, Johnny George and Allen Simpson at forwards, and Don Rogers joining Rookie Rogers at guards.

Top three scorers for the Buffs are Rookie Rogers, with a 19.2 per game output; Burrus, with 18.2 a game; and Simpson, with 15.2 a game.

The Buffs, now tied with Arizona State College at Tempe for the lead in the Border Conference race, will meet the University of Texas Longhorns Jan. 30 in the WT fieldhouse.

They return to conference action against Arizona State Feb. 2 and Arizona Feb. 4, with both games on the home court.

Save Money, Let Census Count Children

How would you like to dig up $72 extra dollars this year?

That's what the taxpayers in the Canyon Independent School District will have to do for each child missed in the annual census being taken this month.

The census must be finished by Jan. 31, and reported to the state. The state department of education pays the district $72 for each school-aged child reported on the census.

Tax Collector Lee Foster and W. E. Miller are taking the census in the district now. They have canvassed much of the district, although their house-to-house visits are not yet complete.

Foster said that most everyone has been home at one time or another, but it is possible that he and Miller may have missed some families with school-aged children. Those who must be counted are children who will be six by Sept. 1, 1956, and those who are under 18.

If you have not been contacted by the end of the month, you are asked to call the school tax office and leave your name and address.

Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Holston and sons, Jim and Robert, of Borger, visited with her mother, Mrs. Lillie Foster, Saturday night. Sunday afternoon Mr. and Mrs. Jim Hill and sons visited with Mrs. Foster. Mrs. Hill is a daughter of Mrs. Foster.

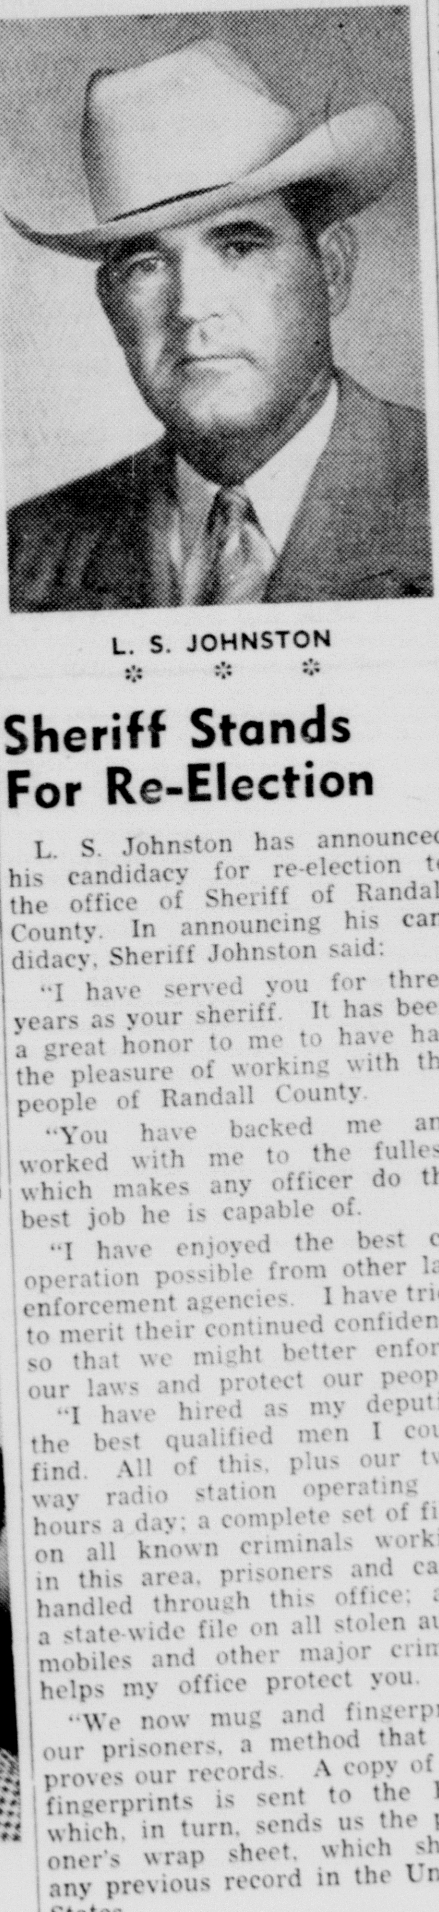
Candidate



L. S. JOHNSTON

Sheriff Stands For Re-Election

L. S. Johnston has announced his candidacy for re-election to the office of Sheriff of Randall County. In announcing his candidacy, Sheriff Johnston said:

"I have served you for three years as your sheriff. It has been a great honor to me to have had the pleasure of working with the people of Randall County.

"You have backed me and worked with me to the fullest, which makes any officer do the best job he is capable of.

"I have enjoyed the best cooperation possible from other law enforcement agencies. I have tried to merit their continued confidence so that we might better enforce our laws and protect our people.

"I have hired as my deputies the best qualified men I could find. All of this, plus our two-way radio station operating 24 hours a day; a complete set of files on all known criminals working in this area, prisoners and cases handled through this office; and a state-wide file on all stolen automobiles and other major crimes, helps my office protect you.

"We now mug and fingerprint our prisoners, a method that improves our records. A copy of the fingerprints is sent to the FBI, which, in turn, sends us the prisoner's wrap sheet, which shows any previous record in the United States.

"I feel that the confidence and support you have given me, combined with the above mentioned progress, have played a great part in making Randall County one of the nicest counties in which to live, with one of the lowest crime rates in the state.

"When parents cooperate with law enforcement agencies as they do in Randall County, we just naturally have less juvenile delinquency. The boys and girls of Randall County are to be commended for their help in suppressing crime among our juveniles.

"It is my utmost desire to improve the services of this office and law enforcement in our county at all times.

"If, after careful consideration of my record, you feel that I have in the past and will in the future try to serve you to the best of my ability, I sincerely solicit your vote and influence in the coming elections. I hope to contact each of you before the election.

"Be sure to secure your poll tax or exemption before Jan. 31, and let's all vote."

J. N. Sublett of McLean is visiting his daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Berry.

We Texans have the reputation of doing everything in the biggest way possible. When we build a monument, we make it higher than any other man-made structure. When we have a state fair, it's the biggest in the world. When we have an oil field, it's the greasiest oil field you ever heard of.

When we have millionaires, they have more money than anyone else. Our women are the prettiest, our cities the cleanest or dirtiest, our highways are the straightest or the crookedist or the widest or the narrowest, our drouths are drier and our wet years are the wettest. Our days are hotter and our nights cooler than anywhere else in the world.

It's gotten so that we Texans are busy all the time making ourselves the best or the worst, bar none.

• • •

Like, for instance, during the Christmas holidays, we Texans managed to kill each other better than the citizens of any other state.

On our fine, crooked, straight, wide and narrow highways we did a fine job of being murderers than anyone else. After the first few hours of the holidays, when Illinois led the nation, Texans finally got a lead and easily topped the list of states reporting highway deaths.

Before it was all over, we Texans had killed upwards of a third of those dead from highway accident. Now, that's something we can be proud of.

• • •

Take the matter of scandals. If someone gets to stealing from someone else, we Texans can take pride in ourselves, because we've got neighbors who can steal more from more people than about anyone you ever heard of.

If some state official decides he can make a good pocketful of money by doing a little extracurricular land dealing, he steps right in and gets money by the jillions, being a Texan born and bred, most likely. We don't need any Yankees to come down and help us steal from each other.

We're pretty good at talking people into giving us their life savings in exchange for a pretty piece of paper with some gold printing on it. We've fixed up our laws so that anytime we want to, we can put up a couple of hundred dollars of money we've borrowed from somewhere, call ourselves an insurance company and set out getting some life savings.

We don't have any trouble printing up our paper, and all we've got to do then is get a basket for all the cash we can gather. And, after we get the cash, we don't have to worry much about paying off any policies that might come due. All we need to do is set up another company in another state, transfer all the cash to it, do a little bit of bookkeeping manipulation and then live high on the hog.

We Texans have it good, there. We've got the cash and our stockholders and policy owners have got the bag. Yessir, we Texans can really make money the easy way.

Then, when someone finally gets around to finding out what we've done, we don't have to worry too much about any criminal prosecution because our fellow Texans will go right along with us. They'll talk big and make a lot of noise—but that's about all.

Of course, what we've done and what our fellow Texans have had to say about it makes a big, old nasty scandal in the rest of the country. We don't have to worry about that, though. We Texans know that what the Yankees and the Okies and the Arkies and them dern Californians have to say ain't a'gonna hurt us none a'tall. We Texans are so much better than all them other folks that we don't even have to notice what they say.

Nosirree. We Texans are proud, and big, and fine. We're the best or the worst or the most or the least.

• • •

Our Texas heritage gives us the feeling of independence. We Texans have always been known to make up our minds what we want, and then to fight for it. Take the tidelands.

The Yankees did want to take the tidelands, and we Texans fought them. We fought in the Supreme Court of the United States, then we fought in the presidential campaign and finally ended up fighting and winning in Congress.

That's the way we do things. We Texans don't like waiting until someone else makes up our minds for us.

Except, that's not happening right now.

A couple of years back, 13 employes of the Santa Fe railroad in Amarillo decided they didn't want to be forced to become union members in order to keep their jobs.

They filed a suit in the district court in Amarillo, seeking to enjoin the railroad and the unions from forcing them to become union members. The Santa Fe didn't want the employes forced to join a union, either, so they joined up with the 13 to help fight the case through the courts.

The suit was filed in line with a state law, called the right to work law, that says that a Texan has a right to a job if the employer likes his work even if the Texan doesn't belong to a union.

Anyway, that case rocked along in Amarillo in one court, where the employes and the railroad won. The unions appealed to another court in Amarillo, and the case was worked over again. Finally the case got appealed all the way up to the state supreme court.

Nebraska has the same sort of law that Texas has about the right to work. Up there some other people filed a suit and their case got to the state supreme court. Right after that, it was appealed to the U. S. Supreme Court.

Well, sir, when the Nebraska case got to Washington, the judges down in Austin looked up and said, "We'd better not do anything on our own case until we see what Washington is going to do."

The 13 Amarillo employes wanted the case to go on through and the Santa Fe did, too. So they asked the Austin judges to go ahead and rule—but they didn't.

They've been pussy-footing around for close to a year now, waiting for the Washington judges to make up our minds for us.

Now the Nebraska folks believe that if the Texas case were appealed to the U. S. Supreme Court at the same time as theirs, both would stand a better chance of being approved. The major question in both cases is whether or not the state right to work laws are constitutional.

The Texas folks think that the U. S. Court would come closer to approving the laws if both cases were presented together. Everybody concerned feels that the Supreme Court in Washington would have a better chance to give a sound opinion if both cases were before them, because there would be more facts to study.

But, that probably won't happen. Our fine (the finest anywhere) judges in Austin are waiting for the Washington judges to make up our minds for us.

Be glad you're a Texan, we've got so much to be proud of

Dear Editor:

A young farm boy from Texas wanted to buy his dad and mom a Christmas present. He wanted $100.

Naturally not too many farm boys have $100, so he thought he would write to God.

He did, and in the letter he said:

Dear God, Us poor farmers don't have no money this Christmas and I want to buy Mom and Dad a Christmas present. Would you send me $100?

But his letter came back. He mailed it again to God in care of Washington, D. C.

Some of the big boys in Washington got the letter and opened it and thought they were pretty funny. They sent the boy $1.

When he got it, he wrote to God to thank him and said:

Thank you, God, for the present, but next time don't send it through Washington, D. C., as they held out $99 withholding tax. But thanks, anyway.

I thought this was pretty good.

I GIVE YOU TEXAS

By BOYCE HOUSE

In the realm of economics, a few profound thinkers have evolved certain "laws" (rules or theories) and have thereby gained lasting fame of a sort. For example, Ricardo and his theory of rent and Malthus with his law pertaining to the growth of population. Here is the newest bid for immortality, the Boyce House law:

You can, and frequently do, receive less than you pay for; but you can be sure you will not receive more than you pay for.

My high school economics teacher used to say that the world is so conditioned and arranged that, no matter how much you make, the world gets it all.

Uncle Zeke says, "After all that wining and dining and the deference to his wisdom which the lobbyists bestow on a member of the legislature while the legislature is in session, it must be an awful letdown for a member to get back home and have to be just 'folks' again."

Shakespeare did not originate his plots. You can find them in old histories. And Homer didn't originate the story of the siege of Troy. But they took old material, worked it over, transformed it on the loom of genius and produced masterpieces. As Alexander Pope once declared, "The thought, though oft-expressed, is his at last who says it best."

Your columnist was having coffee one morning last summer in Stamford with W. G. Swenson, manager of the great SMS ranch; his son, Eugene, who is associated with the ranch's management; A. M. G. Swenson, assistant manager, and John Selman, foreman of the ranch. "Mr. Bill" offered the cream and sugar to me first but I said, "I'll take it black, ranch style." So help me, I was the only one who took it black; all the ranchers used either cream or sugar or both!

The secret of happiness—what is it?

A woman wrote a letter to the editor of the Daily Oklahoman in Oklahoma City, "My doctor gives me just one more year of life. How should I spend that final year?" He published the letter, withholding her name, and thousands of suggestions poured in from all over the world. The one she accepted was, "Stop thinking of yourself and think of others; get your mind off your own troubles by doing something for somebody else." A year later, she was still alive and was leading a buoyant life because she had discovered the secret of happiness: service to others.

Thief entered a Knoxville, Tenn., apartment and stole a kitchen sink. Everything but the kitchen sink was what he couldn't steal — apartment was vacant.

SECTION II

That the monthly rates for services furnished by the Canyon Waterworks System shall be as follows:

TALL IN SPIRIT—Billy Johnson, left, all four feet, three inches of him, is a match for size in spirit to Kansas State's four-foot, nine-inch center, Jack Parr. The 16-year-old Kansas City, Mo., lad, lifelong victim of heart trouble, became part of a mutual adoption effort when he walked into the auditorium seven years ago. Since then, whenever the Wildcats are in town, he wears their warm-up gear and plays every minute of the tournament games in spirit—from the bench.

State Capitol NEWS

By VERN SANFORD
Texas Press Association

AUSTIN—It seems that all areas of state government — executive, legislative, administrative and judiciary — are affected by the insurance debacle. There are federal overtones too — and of course political.

Developments were numerous as the state moved to close five more insurance or related firms and slapped another under state conservatorship. All this in the wake of the collapse of the $6,000,000 U. S. Trust and Guaranty Co.

Most far-reaching step was the order by the Board of Insurance Commissioners, for re-examination of all Texas insurance companies, none excepted.

Already under way, at the request of the commission, is a vast audit-examination sponsored by the Texas Society of Certified Public Accountants. Auditing costs will be assessed the companies.

Any insurance firm refusing to open its books to the unofficial examiners will have its license suspended immediately and an official examination of such firm will start within 48 hours.

Gov. Allan Shivers commended the unusual step and gave his emphatic endorsement.

In keeping with the requirements of state law the Insurance Commission named a new chairman for a two-year term.

Casualty Commissioner J. Byron Saunders was selected. He succeeds Garland A. Smith, chairman for the past two years. Smith nominated Saunders for the post.

One of the first moves of the new commission was to suspend the license of the U. S. Life Insurance Co. of Waco.

It is one of the companies under the direction of A. B. Shoemake, who is president of the U. S. Trust and Guaranty Co. as well as U. S. Automotive Service. Both of these firms now are in receivership.

Another Shoemake concern, Southern Medical and Hospital Services, was placed in conservatorship. This means that a state conservator — virtually the same as a state liquidator — will operate the company until the insurance board determines further action . . . possibly the selection of new management.

Licenses also were revoked for Dallas Fire and Casualty Co. and American Atlas Life Insurance Co. of Dallas.

American Atlas appealed to the district court. This suspends the order against them pending a court hearing on the appeal.

While the Insurance Commission was taking action, Secretary of State Tom Reavley seized the books and records of the Mercantile Investment Corporation, a holding firm, and Merchants National Security Corporation, its subsidiary, for investigation of their sales of securities. Both firms are in Dallas.

In Austin, District Judge J. Harris Gardner instructed a grand jury to make a full investigation of insurance affairs.

Several legislators had urged either grand jury action or a special session of the Legislature to consider insurance matters.

The Senate general investigating committee is resuming its investigation of the U. S. Trust and other insurance matters.

House general investigating committee members will hold a three-day session beginning Jan. 19.

Atty. Gen. John Ben Shepperd wrote district and county attorneys in the 13 counties in which U. S. Trust and Guaranty Co. operated, reminding them that a grand jury inquiry into possible criminal violations need not wait for completion of the state audits.

Federal agencies disclosed that they have begun investigations of the interstate operations of U. S. Trust and Guaranty Co.

And in Washington, U. S. Senator Price Daniel called on federal agencies to determine if use of "U. S." in the trust company's name violated any federal law or regulation.

Four Insurance Department examiners have been promised a quick hearing on charges they conspired to defraud the public.

They were charged in an Austin district court with knowingly making a false examination report in 1952, showing the now defunct General American Casualty Company to be solvent.

Other defendants named in the suit by the state's insurance liquidator were the officers and directors of General American and the banks and surety companies involved in its operation.

Insurance Commission agents are being sent to all Texas military installations to check reports of insurance being sold at higher than state-prescribed rates.

Some servicemen, the commission was told, were paying as much as three times the state rate for automobile insurance.

With candidates for top political offices already talking it up, more stringent regulation of insurance companies will play an important part in the campaign platforms of 1956 in Texas.

Short Snorts

More than 6,000 Texas motorists were arrested by highway patrolmen the past 30 days, for traffic violations. Of these, 3,620 never had owned a driver's license and 2,638 were driving with expired licenses or without licenses. Nearly 180,000 drivers' licenses were checked at various hours of the day and night, on highways and farm-to-market roads.

Over $7,000,000 will be spent by the Texas Highway Department in 1956 in an attempt to reduce highway accidents.

Joe McMinn of Fort Worth has been named by Atty. Gen. John Ben Shepperd as an assistant in the veterans land division.

Rain is needed over all parts of Texas, says the U. S. Department of Agriculture. Dryland wheat in the northwest is holding on surprisingly well, even though surface moisture is depleted. High Plains irrigated wheat is in good condition. In the blacklands, Central and East Texas, most small grains have fair to good color, but vegetable growth is short and rain is needed urgently. Heavy supplemental feeding of livestock continues over most of Texas.

Twelve-month school terms and larger classroom units were among suggestions discussed by a committee of 50 citizens named by the State Board of Education to consider ways and means of better utilization of school personnel and facilities.

Lt. Col. Morris S. Schwartz, state selective service director, says the Army will draft 289 Texans in February as its share of some 6,000 men to be called into service nationally. Only board having a preponderance of older men will be asked to fill the quota.

Texas construction projects totaled $949,213,349 for 1955, making it the fifth best year on record. An all-time high $174,600,000 program of road building scheduled by the Texas Highway Department brightens the construction industry's outlook for 1956.

Travis County's three district courts, in which venure of nearly all state cases is placed, are overflowing with veterans land, insurance and other state cases. District Judge D. B. Wood of Georgetown has been assigned to Austin in an effort to catch up with the overloaded dockets.

Modern Science Topic Of Woman Book Club

The general subject of the program for the meeting was "Trends in Modern Science." Mrs. Frank Morgan gave a discussion on "Television;" Mrs. Lon Fanning read a paper prepared by Mrs. T. B. McCarter on "Radar;" and Mrs. Joseph Findley showed some slides and gave a discussion on the topic "Atoms for Peace."

At the business session, presided over by Mrs. L. A. Donnell, president, Mrs. Lee Foster was elected Federation Councilor, and Mrs. Joe Gibson was elected to serve as parliamentarian. Mrs. Ray Campbell and Edna Graham were elected to serve on the library board.

Members were asked by the president to be prepared to submit topics for next year's program at the first meeting in February.

Mae Simmons, who is to appear on the program for Jan. 25, announced that the meeting for that date will be held in the film room at the West Texas Library.

Included in the items of correspondence brought to the members by the president was a letter from the state hospital at Wichita Falls. In addition to thanking the members for items sent to the hospital, the individual writing the letter stressed the fact that many types of articles can be used to advantage with the patients.

Among those listed were clothing, dress materials, stamped patterns for hand work, games, costume jewelry, threads, or any other gift that would contribute to the comfort of the patients or which would help them occupy their time.

Present at the meeting were Mrs. Alfred Bellah, Mrs. H. A. Brown, Mrs. C. R. Burrow, Mrs. Ray Campbell, Mrs. A. A. Clark, Mrs. S. H. Condron, Mrs. James P. Cornette, Mrs. John Davis, Mrs. L. A. Donnell, Mrs. Lon Fanning, Mrs. Joseph Findley, Mrs. Evetts Haley, Mrs. Charles Harter, Mrs. A. B. Holt, Mrs. G. E. Kiser, Mrs. T. H. Knighton, Mrs. S. B. Loudder, Mrs. T. S. Maxwell, Mrs. Frank Morgan, Mrs. C. A. Murray, Mrs. R. A. Neblett, Mrs. Irving SoRelle, Mrs. Fred Standley, Mrs. A. W. Sternenberg, Mae Simmons and Darthula Walker.

Registration Plans Switched This Year

Registration for the second semester at West Texas State College will be held in a single day, Tuesday, according to Registrar Frank H. Morgan. A new procedure for enrolling will be initiated.

Students will wind up first semester examinations Thursday, with a short holiday before registering for the new semester. Time that students register will be determined by the letter with which their last names begin.

In the past, students have registered according to number drawn, and always before registration opened, students stood for hours in line to draw early registration numbers.

It will be necessary to adhere rigidly to the registration time schedule, Morgan said. Students who fail to register at the time designated must wait until the end of the registration period.

Order of registration begins with letters W through Z at 8 a. m., and continues backward through the alphabet at half-hour intervals.

Those who register first this spring, will be last next fall, so that by following the same procedure each succeeding semester, all students will have equal opportunity as to time for registering.

Burrow Sees Higher Volume of Home Improvement, Business During '56

An increased volume of home improvements will provide a strong stimulus to business activity in Canyon throughout 1956, according to C. R. Burrow of the Public Affairs Committee of the National Retail Lumber Dealers Association.

"Designation of the new year as home improvement year by housing officials in Washington has set off a great wave of promotion in manufacturers' advertising and in consumer magazines which will raise interest in home modernization to an all-time peak in all parts of the country," Burrow said.

"Operation Home Improvement, as the year-long program is named, will result in higher housing standards and will create increased demand for a wide range of goods and services that will mean more employment for local residents and more sales for local businesses.

"Experience has shown that home improvement work always is accompanied by a demand for new home furnishings and equipment in addition to the building materials used on the job. More than half of the construction expenditures go for labor as a general rule.

"The nationwide program was inspired by a letter from President Eisenhower to Housing Administrator Cole pointing out that a vigorous program of home improvement was needed to round out an overall national housing program in which construction of new housing and slum clearance have received major emphasis in the past.

"Operation Home Improvement" will emphasize the fact that home repair and modernization can be paid for on the time payment plan like automobiles and household appliances.

"The market potential in home improvement work is shown by the fact that half of all the 50,000,000 homes now standing in this country are 30 years old or older, and most never have been modernized."

• Refugees

Are you in the Sixth Grade? Then this is for you.

Canyon is inviting some refugees from Europe to come and live here. They have been driven out of their homes by the Russian Army and are now out of work and out of their homes.

A sixth grade boy living in Albuquerque, N. M., heard about their sad plight and he wanted to help.

Out of his Christmas money he felt that he wanted to make a very special gift and he started our fund.

If you would like to help, don't ask your mother and dad to give you a dollar, but do without some treat you would have, or work and give your own money to help.

Take it to the First National Bank and give it to Mrs. Black for the Refugee Fund.

She will give you a receipt, and you will know you have helped in a big work. Of course you will want to know what is to be done with the money.

When the refugees are selected, they will be sent free over the ocean by the Church World Service to America. But we will have to pay their transportation to Canyon from the place where they land.

They will have jobs here and will pay this money back. The first month's grocery bill will also need to be paid.

—Mary Moss Richardson

News In Canyon 25 Years Ago

(Taken from the files of The Canyon News of Jan. 15, 1931.)

Two masked men broke into Levi Cole's home at 4:30 a. m. one morning and woke him and Mrs. Cole. The Coles were ordered to put on their clothes, and then were blindfolded. They were taken to the First National Bank where Cole was assistant cashier.

There they sat, bound and gagged until shortly after 7 a. m. when the time lock on one of the vaults was released. Cole was forced to open the vault and the robbers scooped up all the money in sight.

Cole was tied up again, and another wait began. About 8:45 a. m., James Cole, then a bookkeeper, came in the front door of the bank, and the robbers jumped him then and there. James Cole was tied up.

A few minutes later, the time lock on the second vault was released, and Levi Cole had to open it for the robbers. They scooped up the money in it, and tied Cole up again, this time with wire.

Just about 9 a. m., Cashier W. C. Black and Sheriff John Fry came in the door, but they didn't have a chance, either. The robbers tied them up, and everyone sat down to wait again.

Christine Upchurch, another bookkeeper, came into the bank at 9:05 a. m. and she was given the same treatment. Since all the employes had come to work, the robbers took their money and left.

After auditors checked up, it was found the the two men had taken $13,804.71. They left $529 in silver and $402 in gold.

When the robbers had gone, Black was able to turn his head enough for James Cole to untie the gag on his mouth. Black walked with the chair he was tied to and got to the telephone and knocked the receiver off. Miss Upchurch was able to wriggle free of her bonds and released the others.

The bank opened for business about 1½ hours late with money rushed down from Amarillo.

Several suspects were arrested and questioned, and later in the week, two Texas Rangers showed up to help in the investigation.

Some 53 per cent of U. S. high schools do not teach physics at all and half of them do not teach chemistry, according to AEC chairman Lewis L. Strauss.

WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS"

By C. WILSON HARDER

This Congressional session can be expected to extensively debate rash of bank mergers sweeping the nation.

* * *

Drive to stop mergers will be renewed under bipartisan leadership. On GOP side, Sen. Homer Capehart will continue to push for his bill that failed of passage last session. In House, where identical bill was introduced, Rep. Emanual Celler is spearheading drive.

C. W. Harder

* * *

In 1952 there were 100 bank mergers, in 1953, 116, in 1954, 207 and Federal Reserve Board chairman estimates 240 in 1955.

* * *

Today over 50% of nation's banking resources are controlled by 100 banks. In New York City, alone, nation's biggest financial center, four banking groups now control over 60% of all commercial banking assets.

* * *

Unwholesome essence of situation is perhaps best expressed by Rep. Albert Rains who says, "The independent home bank is the key member of the community, not the anonymous agent and disinterested financial institution that gets too big to be personal, or an integral part of community life."

* * *

But beyond this ably expressed fact, many observers of situation express belief monopoly banking promotes inflation.

* * *

FHA and VA home loans perhaps meet a need, yet there is a great deal of question as to whether home prices would have ever pushed up to present levels if it were not for fact that a few huge banking concerns, plus two or three big insurance firms, find it to their advantage to keep home mortgage volume at high rate regardless of values.

* * *

Obviously, government cannot withdraw these programs of mortgage guarantees. Yet serious thought is being given to fact that situation may be somewhat out of hand.

* * *

Federal Reserve Board has been trying to regulate matter through adjustment in interest rates, yet against this mild control is fact that 100 banks control over half nation's banking resources, and they thus control huge cash reserves which must be put out to work at interest.

* * *

Among Capehart banking bill supporters was Federal Reserve Board, Dept. of Justice, House and Senate Small Business Committees, chairman of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, National Federation of Independent Business.

* * *

Conceivably, unless Congress acts, in due time nation's banking resources could fall under control of 50 or fewer organizations to become even more powerful than U. S. government.

* * *

This could become dangerous to American traditions and concepts, for under the stresses and strains of even a temporary economic setback, it is easy to imagine through due legislative processes, the Congress of the United States being forced to nationalize the nation's banking structure.

* * *

There is safety in numbers.

* * *

Thus, nation's banking structure depends on the existence of a large number of healthy, independent banks. The problem is serious.

A LOT TO LEARN

An elderly woman was escorting two little girls around the zoo. While they were looking at the stork, she told them the legend of the ungainly bird—how it was instrumental in bringing them to their mothers.

The children looked at each other in astonishment, and presently one whispered to the other: "Don't you think we ought to tell the dear old thing the truth?"

Farm Exports Up 4 Per Cent

COLLEGE STATION—Exports of agricultural commodities from the United States during the July-November 1955 period are estimated at $1,300,000,000, a gain of 4 per cent over the same period for 1954.

According to the U. S. Department of Agriculture, farm exports in November are estimated at about $275,000,000, or 11 per cent greater than the monthly average in the first quarter of the current fiscal year but 18 per cent less than for November of 1954.

The chief differences between November 1955 and the corresponding month a year earlier were the declines in exports of cotton and vegetable oils and oilseed while increases were made by grains and feeds.

Exports of livestock products, tobacco and fruits and vegetables did not change significantly.

Cotton exports, although aided by sales for foreign currencies, still were less than half as great in the 1955 July-November period as in the corresponding months of 1954.

There was a slight increase in wheat and flour exports, and feed grain shipments abroad continued to advance.

Sales to Japan for that country's currency stimulated rice exports in the July-November period. Soybean exports were much higher than a year earlier, and favorable prices encouraged lard shipments abroad.

Something's prosperous in Denmark. She has signed a $2,800,000 contract with the Red China National Import Corporation, according to a trade delegation spokesman in Hong Kong.

Smartest Buy in the fine-car field

You've probably noticed that more and more people seem to be stepping into the upper circle of fine cars.

And there can be no doubt that "good times" have a lot to do with this.

But all by itself, it doesn't explain the sudden spurt in sales of the finest of Buicks—the 1956 Roadmaster.

For it has always been our experience that folks with the wherewithal to buy any car they choose are apt to be the choosiest of all.

So it seems quite clear that the marked and increasing preference for Roadmaster is in the fineness of the car itself.

We can tell you why very simply.

Roadmaster starts off with all the virtues that have vaulted the full line of Buicks to soaring popular favor—then caps that acclaim with a worthiness all its own.

You sense this especial eminence at once—in the individualized styling of this gracefully proportioned car.

You recognize it again—in the quiet elegance of its custom appointments—and in the good taste of its luxurious fabrics and color harmonies.

But you know it for sure in the lift and thrill and spirit of Roadmaster performance.

For here is the obedient might of the highest-powered V8 engine in Buick history—coupled to the flash-fast response and absolute smoothness of an advanced new Variable Pitch Dynaflow—most modern transmission in motoring today.

In all truth, no man who puts true merit above mere symbol could ask for more than is his in Roadmaster.

If that applies to you, we'll be happy to arrange an introduction. Will you phone us—or come in—for a demonstration soon?

Pan-Fried Chicken for Dinner Is a Dish to Crow About

BY DOROTHY MADDOX

WHAT can be better eating than a tender frying chicken when perfectly pan-fried? "Nothing" is a good answer. So let's get on with preparations for an easy-to-prepare feast.

Pan-Fried Chicken

One chicken for frying, 1 cup flour, 2 teaspoons salt, ¼ teaspoon pepper, 2 teaspoons paprika, ½ cup butter or margarine (¼ pound), shortening, 3 tablespoons water.

Have chicken drawn and cut into serving pieces, or, if "quick-frozen," thaw according to directions on the box. Rinse in cold water and drain.

Mix flour, salt, pepper and paprika in a paper sack. Shake 3 or 4 pieces of chicken in sack at a time to coat thoroughly.

Heat the butter and enough shortening in a heavy skillet to make a layer of fat ½-inch deep.

With kitchen tongs place chicken in hot fat, skin side down. Brown and turn.

Add water and cover tightly.

Reduce heat and cook slowly about 30 to 40 minutes or until chicken is tender.

Here's a novel potato dessert to add to your culinary repertoire.

Chocolate Potato Cake

One-half cup mashed, warm potatoes; ½ cup shortening, 1 cup sugar, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon vanilla, 2 eggs, 2 squares melted chocolate, 1 cup flour, 2 teaspoons baking powder, ½ teaspoon each of cinnamon, nutmeg and cloves, ½ cup chopped walnuts.

Cream shortening, sugar and salt; add eggs and beat. Blend in melted chocolate and warm mashed potatoes.

Sift flour with other dry ingredients and add alternately with milk.

Add chopped nuts. Pour into well-greased square pan 8x8x2 inches and bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) about 30 minutes. This cake will stay nice and moist.

Pan-fried chicken, broccoli with cream sauce and sliced tomatoes bring springtime to a winter-weary table.

Frosting for Potato Cake

One-half cup sugar, 1½ tablespoons cornstarch, 1½ squares semi-sweet chocolate, grated; ¼ teaspoon salt, ½ cup boiling water, 1½ tablespoons vanilla.

Mix sugar and cornstarch. Add chocolate and salt. Add water. Cook until mixture thickens. Remove from heat. Add butter and vanilla. Spread on cake while hot for a glossy frosting.

REA Electricity Price Under 3 Cents For First Time in 20 Program Years

COLLEGE STATION—For the first time in the history of the 20-year-old REA program, the average cost of power to residential consumers, including farm and non-farm, dropped under three cents per kilowatt-hour.

In a year-end summary of the REA, a U. S. Department of Agriculture report shows that the sale of electric energy went up 16 per cent and the cost to consumers dropped 5 per cent during 1955.

The REA-financed system sold an estimated 19 billion kilowatt-hours of electricity. Their generation of power was up 21 per cent and purchases of wholesale power were up 13 per cent.

At the year's end there were 1,026 borrowers with systems in operation. They were serving 4,244,000 rural consumers.

Ancher Nelsen, REA administrator, said the borrowers, largely farmer-owned electric cooperatives, were never in better financial condition. In 1955 revenues from operations amounted to $453 million, an 11 per cent increase over 1954.

Net margins from operations amounted to $61.8 million, a 41 per cent increase. Nelsen reported a drop of 25 per cent in the number of borrowers whose current operations might be considered financially unsatisfactory, from 194 in June 1954 to 143 in June 1955.

In 1955 the systems paid $111.2 million in principal and interest on their 2 per cent loans and continued their excellent repayment record.

In 1955 the borrowers also increased their advance repayment of borrowed money by $13.2 million. Payments on principal ahead of schedule now amount to $91.8 million.

Loans over the life of the program now total $3.1 billion. Of this amount $2.6 billion has been advanced to the borrowers.

Grain stored under CCC loan on the farm or in warehouses is not subject to personal property tax, according to a U. S. Department of Agriculture-Ohio State University report.

Farm Operators Must Pay Social Security Tax Before April 15

COLLEGE STATION—Self-employed farmers and ranchers can become eligible for insurance benefits under the social security law by mid-1956 if they have earned as much as $400 from farming in both calendar years 1955 and 1956, A. B. Wooten, extension economist, reminds Texas farm operators.

Along with this goes the responsibility to report earnings from farming and pay the 3 per cent social security tax not later than April 15, 1956. The Social Security Administration has suggested that payments be made as early as possible after January 1.

The form for making a report and remitting the required tax for social security insurance (Schedule SE) comes with the Federal Income Tax Return, Form 1040.

If your net earnings from farming were as much as $400 in 1955, you are obliged to fill out and file this return and pay the social security tax, according to Wooten, even if you do not owe any Federal income tax for 1955.

Older farmers—those 65 or over—can retire after mid-1956 and start getting monthly old-age insurance payments if they have met the earnings requirements and paid their tax.

Other farmers, regardless of age, will acquire family protection in the form of monthly payments to surviving dependents in the event of their death, provided they meet the same requirements.

In either case, the payment of the social security tax must accompany your income tax declaration or return. This responsibility is required by law.

Further information on social security taxes may be obtained at your nearest Internal Revenue Service office or from the local county agent.

Information about benefits can be obtained from your social security district office. If you do not know where these offices are, your postmaster can tell you, says Wooten.

Control Blackspot, Get Larger Blooms

COLLEGE STATION—By sticking to a regular, year-in and year-out blackspot control program, rose growers can get more and larger early blooms.

Studies by the U. S. Department of Agriculture's Research Service prove that regular control has both a current and cumulative value.

This year's efforts will give immediate benefit and also lower the blackspot carry-over on leaves and stems next year; similarly, next year's efforts will benefit the following season's rose production.

For example, in test plots at Beltsville, Maryland, planted to Golden Masterpiece, a blackspot susceptible rose, regular dusting with the organic fungicide zineb during 1954 resulted in about 42 per cent blackspot infection in September and only 25 per cent in June 1955.

Roses of the same variety, not treated with fungicides, were 83 per cent infected by September 1954 and 55 per cent in June 1955. Good control results, similar to those obtained for zineb, were also achieved with dust mixtures containing 3.4 per cent copper and 24 per cent sulfur or 7.6 per cent ferbam and 25 per cent sulfur.

Twice-weekly, early season cuttings (May and June) of the Golden Masterpiece roses further proved the carry-over value of blackspot control. The copper-sulfur dusted roses yielded 1,479 booms with an average bloom weight of 11.7 grams in May and 11.3 grams in June.

Untreated rose plots yielded only 492 early-season blooms with an average weight of 11.3 grams in May and 9.8 grams in June.

In these tests, fungicidal dusts were applied once each week during the growing season. Studies are planned to determine whether a different frequency of dust applications should be used.

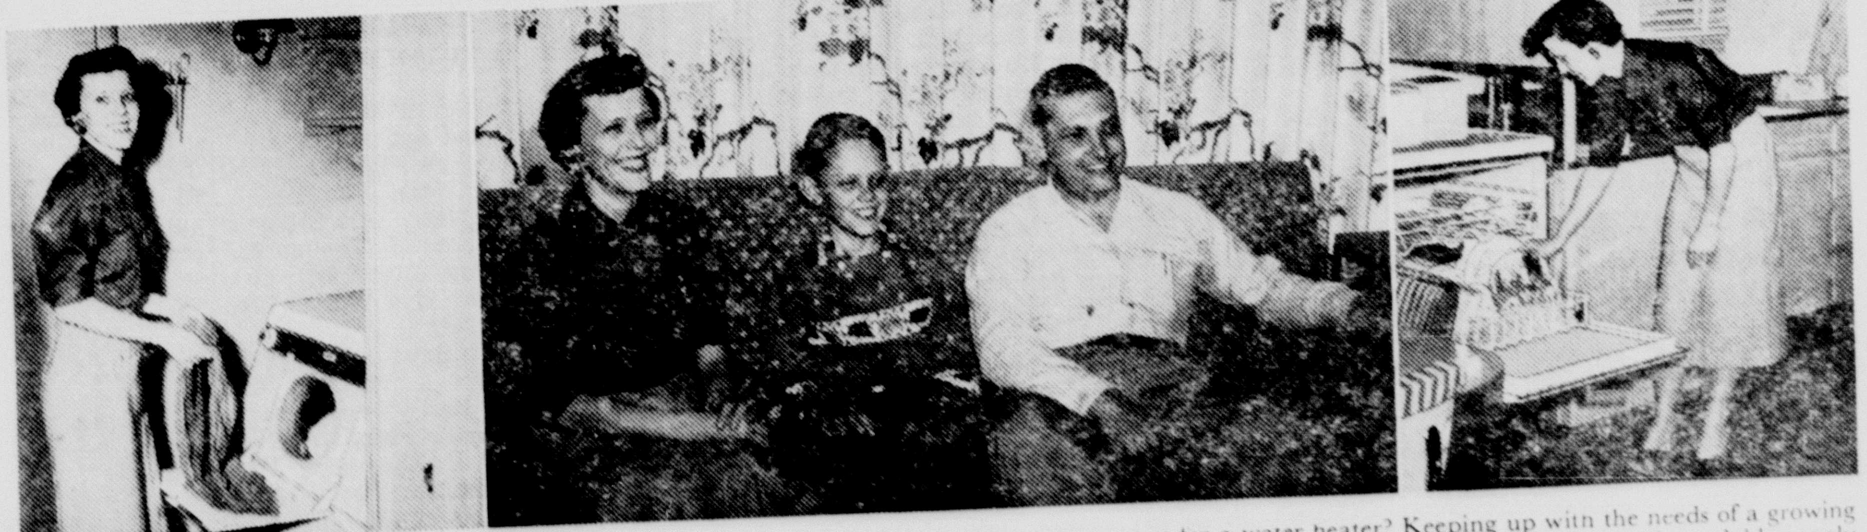
Wirt Electric

"Our ELECTRIC water heater is an important partner to our other work saving electric appliances!"

says MRS. KEITH HALL 120 E. 18th STREET PORTALES, NEW MEXICO



A modern water heater is fast, safe, clean and economical . . . so, of course, the modern water heater is electric.

Mrs. Hall says: "I like for the water to be really hot when I use my dishwasher and my washer-dryer combination. Our busy family makes many demands for hot water, and our electric water heater does a perfect job.

Mrs. Hall enjoys the exclusive plus value of extra storage space, which electric water heating offers, too. "Even our linens can be stored above our electric water heater."

The supreme test for a water heater? Keeping up with the needs of a growing boy. "Our son, Jimmy, like most young athletes, requires a dependable supply of hot water."

And the father looks to safety. Mr. Hall, immediate past president of the New Mexico Junior Chamber of Commerce, says: "I often find it necessary to make out of town trips in my business, and I appreciate the fact that our electric water heater is absolutely safe."

For every member of your family there's a modern way to heat water. Of course, it's electric.

Library To Get Great Books Series

West Texas State College's library has been selected to receive one of the 1,600 sets of Great Books of the Western World being distributed through a selection committee of the American Library Association.

The books are given through a grant from the Old Dominion Foundation.

The celebrated 54-volume work, including the unique idea-index, the Syntopicon, was produced by Encyclopaedia Britannica in collaboration with the University of Chicago.

The 1,600 libraries, including college, high school, public and private agencies, were chosen from among 30,000 throughout the nation.

The set of 54 volumes encompasses 443 works by 74 authors, spanning Western thought from Homer and the Bible to the 20th century. Editorial preparation of the set occupied 100 scholars for eight years and cost two million dollars to produce.

The Great Books series contains whole works and for 21 of the 74 authors, all their works.

March of Dimes Talent Show Entry Blanks Available in Four Places

Entry blanks for the March of Dimes Talent Show Jan. 23 are available from Rex Reeves, elementary school principal, Lawrence Brotherton, junior high school principal, J. E. Miller, high school principal, and Emmitt Smith, television coordinator for the 1956 March of Dimes.

The show will be given at 8 p. m. Monday in the college auditorium, and talent will be selected to appear on the KFDA-TV telethon Jan. 28 and 29. The judges here will be assisted by a talent scout from the television station.

The contest will be divided into four classes—children's division, those in the fifth grade and under; junior high division, those in grades six through eight; high school division, those in grades nine through 12; and college and non-school.

No admission will be charged for the talent show Monday, but a free will offering for the March of Dimes will be taken up, Smith said. Wendell Cain, college speech professor, will be master of ceremonies for the show.

Judging will be based solely on the basis of whether or not the performers will be used in the KFDA-TV telethon.

The telethon will be aired beginning at 10 p. m. Jan. 28 and will continue until about 3 p. m. Jan. 29.

In Canyon, teams from the Lions and Rotary Clubs will man the collection station at Thompson Hardware during the entire show. Anyone wishing to donate to the March of Dimes may call the collection station at OL5-2525.

Other teams composed of firemen and members of the sheriff's department will collect the donations soon after the calls are received at the collection station. Those who call in donations will not have to stir from in front of the television set, Smith said.

Anyone who wishes to enter the talent show in Canyon Monday night should contact Reeves, Brotherton, Miller or Smith as soon as possible in order that the acts may be scheduled.

Smith said he is expecting a great number of performers to enter, and is expecting a good show. Everyone in Canyon and in the county is invited to attend the free talent contest, he said.

College Selects Two Operas for Show During Fine Arts Festival in May

Two unusual operas, "The Mighty Casey" and "In A Garden," will be presented by the West Texas State College Opera Workshop and Chorus as opening features of the annual Festival of the Fine Arts, April 30-May 1.

A short curtain-raiser, "In A Garden" presents text by controversial poet Gertrude Stein, known in passing for such phrases as "A rose is a rose is a rose" and "Pigeons in the grass, alas."

Second and longer opera, "The Mighty Casey" is based on the poem, "Casey at the Bat," and is adapted and written by William Schuman.

Casting for the two operas will begin shortly after the second semester opens at WT, Jan. 25. "In A Garden" casts three voices, soprano, tenor and baritone, while "Casey" utilizes voices of all types and a chorus.

Singing roles for "The Mighty Casey" includes just about all the characters who make up a baseball team, umpires, managers, bat boys, and others, and the chorus is the spectators in the bleachers. Part of Casey, however, will be played strictly in pantomime.

From Canada to Texas, from the farm to the ministry and finally in Canyon attending West Texas State College. There you sum up the story of a young man, Noah Arnpriester, who splits his life role between being the father of seven children, student and cafeteria worker.

Noah, his wife Hazel and children, who moved to Canyon in September from Clayton, N. M., live at 900 Eighth Ave. Noah works noons and evenings at the college cafeteria but joins his family for meals.

It's a busy life for all the Arnpriesters right down to the youngest tow-headed youngster. Beginning with Marvin who is 12 years old and in the seventh grade, the family roll call includes Donna, 10, in the fifth grade; Marylin, eight, third grade; Paul, seven, second grade. Not in school are Rachel, five, Lois, three, and David, two.

From the farm to the ministry. This is the beginning of the story of the Noah Arnpriester family.

In 1942, Noah married Hazel, whom he met in high school in Ordway, Colo., and began farming. During the time on the farm, he decided to enter the ministry and took a big step that led him in October of 1948 to the Prairie Bible Institute in Three Hills, Alberta, Canada.

For 3½ years the Arnpriester's lived in Canada, which placed a vivid imprint on their memories. They still recall the comfortable summer climate of between 70 and 80 degrees, and the big snows and temperatures so low they could use the front porch as a deep freeze.

After Bible school, Noah began his work in New Mexico as an Evangelical United Brethren minister. It was while in Clayton that another decision was made.

Noah and Hazel decided that even though he had attended a Bible institute that he was still limited.

They felt that he, who was to lead all types of individuals with varying degrees of education, was still limited in the range of formal education. So it was off to college.

Last year, Noah enrolled in West Texas State, leaving his family in Clayton. His family joined him in September.

He is undecided as to a major but finds greater interest in English and history.

The big goal for the Arnpriesters is for Noah to obtain his ordination in the Evangelical United Brethren. At present he only has his license. After obtaining a B.A. degree from WTSC he will take further seminary work by correspondence.

Needless to say, a large family is a problem. Take groceries. It seems Mrs. Arnpriester has learned to manage and is a good cook, if seven rosy cheecks are any indication. She bakes all of her own bread and food-saving menus and recipes are in her cook's repertoire.

DREAM TRAIN FOR SOVIET CHILDREN—Passengers and crew of this spic-and-span steam train chuffing past memorial pylons in Stalingrad, U.S.S.R., are children, according to caption material from a Soviet source. Line runs along embankment of the Volga River and is said to be only one of many such "dream trains" operated in various Soviet cities.

One recipe, given to her by her mother, which rates a favorite is a casserole dish. To prepare it she says to place a layer of sliced raw potatoes in a greased baking dish and sprinkle with salt. Next she adds a layer of ⅓ cup uncooked rice, followed by 1 lb. of ground beef, sliced onion, sliced carrots and a quart of cooked tomatoes. She adds three tablespoons of sugar if desired and a little pepper. Bake, covered, in a moderate oven two hours. Her mother liked to brown the beef before adding it to the casserole and omits the sugar.

In regard to food problems, father and mother Arnpriester admit that there have been questions about the next meal. At Christmas time one year the shekels in the pocket just weren't there. Hazel told her husband there was no flour and could be no bread.

He left and when he returned in the evening he had a large sack of flour. Surprised, Hazel asked how he managed it and Noah credited it to an anonymous check that had arrived in the mail, postmarked Washington.

They recall several times when, at the point of discouragement, everything worked out.

But even if there are trying times, which meet all families in some form, the Arnpriesters enjoy their large family. There is the fellowship and fun together as one unit. There is the sharing of responsibility which all the children carry and which the parents feel helps to make the children responsible and dependent individuals.

Noah and Hazel were both born in America but his parents came from Prussia. Noah speaks German, but does not write and read it. He says that as a child he refused his mother's wish for his mastering of the German grammar. He said, "No, I am an American now, and I must speak English." His father is a naturalized citizen.

The Arnpriesters say they like Canyon very much. "We were impressed with the friendliness of the people in Canyon and it has been so much easier for me to get acquainted than I thought it would be," says Mrs. Arnpriester.

The family was surprised at Christmas by the many gifts they received from people they did not know. They were given, among other things, two turkeys and gifts for all the children.

Two remarks made by Noah and Hazel Arnpriester sum up to a large extent mottos for the family. He said "Every time, since before we married until the present, everything that has happened the Lord has done and he is marvelous in our eyes."

Hazel said "We don't want people to think we are doing anything unusual or above average. We are only trying to follow God's will; and what we have done, He has made it possible for us to do."

NEWS LETTER
FROM CONGRESSMAN WALTER ROGERS OF THE 18TH CONGRESSIONAL DISTRICT

The President's Message

The State of the Union Message to the second session of the 84th Congress was somewhat of a surprise to Republicans and Democrats alike. It seemed to cover everything except the amount of the national debt and the natural gas bill.

It is quite understandable that neither of these items were mentioned because the national debt now stands just short of 281 billion dollars, the highest it has ever been in the history of this country.

Its increase in the past two years is just about equal to the amount of tax reduction that was given last year.

In other words, the tax reduction was not a dividend to the few taxpayers who received it by virtue of a curtailment in government expenditures.

It was nothing more than a shifting of accounts. The taxes were reduced about 7½ billion dollars and the national debt was increased by an equal amount to take up this slack.

The bad part about such fiscal operation is that we have to pay interest on this borrowed money.

If that interest is two per cent on 7 billion dollars, it simply means that we must pay 140 million dollars a year in interest which is about 80 cents apiece for every man, woman and child in the United States, or about one-third of a million dollars every day.

It is also understandable why the natural gas bill was not mentioned. Many observers here think that the passage of the natural gas bill by the Senate in its present form would be the quickest way of finding out whether or not the President intends to run for a second term.

They reason that if the bill is passed the Congress in its present form and placed on his desk for signature, its fate will be proof of what will happen; that is, if the President intends to run again, the Republican leaders will make him veto it.

If he does not intend to run again, the Republican leaders will permit him to sign it and let him take full responsibility for it.

This is because many of the Republicans from the north and northeast who favor the legislation privately, oppose it publicly for political reasons.

Some of the surprises in the President's Message were the apparent reversal of the Administration on public housing, amendment of the Taft-Hartley Act, expansion of minimum wage coverage, federal aid to education, a bolder stand for federal aid in health insurance and the advocating of a further invasion of states rights, to mention a few.

The Textile Mill in Kiev

The Russians were most anxious for us to visit their manufacturing plants and made special plans for a tour through the Kiev textile mill. The mill was under the supervision of a woman who appeared to be around 45 years of age.

She also appeared to be very able and to understand what she was doing. We were first escorted into her office and conferred at length with her and three men associates.

The office was well decorated and equipped. One entire wall was built-in show cases for displaying the products manufactured.

Hose, sweaters and underwear were the leading items. We received a briefing which included a pointed reference to the fact that this mill was destroyed by German bombs during the early days of the invasion and had been completely rebuilt.

Before starting on the trip through the mill, one of our group told the lady superintendent that if there were any samples available, we would be happy to receive some.

She immediately replied in a very gracious manner that under the scheme of things in Russia, there was no need for samples; that the entire output of the mill was allocated on a quota basis and was distributed in accordance with those regulations.

However, I noticed that immediately after this part of the conference she gave whispered instructions to one of her men assistants whereupon he left the group.

We were taken through the mill and allowed to visit in each department as we desired. The personnel of the mill was about 80 per cent women.

We tried to talk to many of them but found none who could speak English. We did confer with several through interpreters who were present, and asked them a number of questions about the mill and their work.

The entire operation was very little different from such a mill in this country, except that the quality of the product was definitely inferior.

They use a synthetic material similar to our nylon or dacron, which they refer to as capron. As I understand it, this is derived from coal.

Most of the personnel seem very busy, but were all very friendly and seemed most anxious to have us view their work.

After we had gone through the many departments of the mill, we were taken to the eating room which could be compared with one of our cafeterias. There were a number of the employes eating at the time, and the place seemed to be clean and very well attended.

We were taken through this restaurant and into a private room in the back where tables had been previously set up with a number of edibles such as apples, grapes, Russian pastries, sandwiches and so forth. We were also served soda water and tea.

An informal discussion was carried on preparatory to our departure from the mill. While this was going on the assistant who had been dispatched by the lady superintendent at the beginning of the tour returned and whispered something to her.

She then advised the chairman of our group that arrangements had been made to give each of us samples of ladies hosiery and a pair of capron socks.

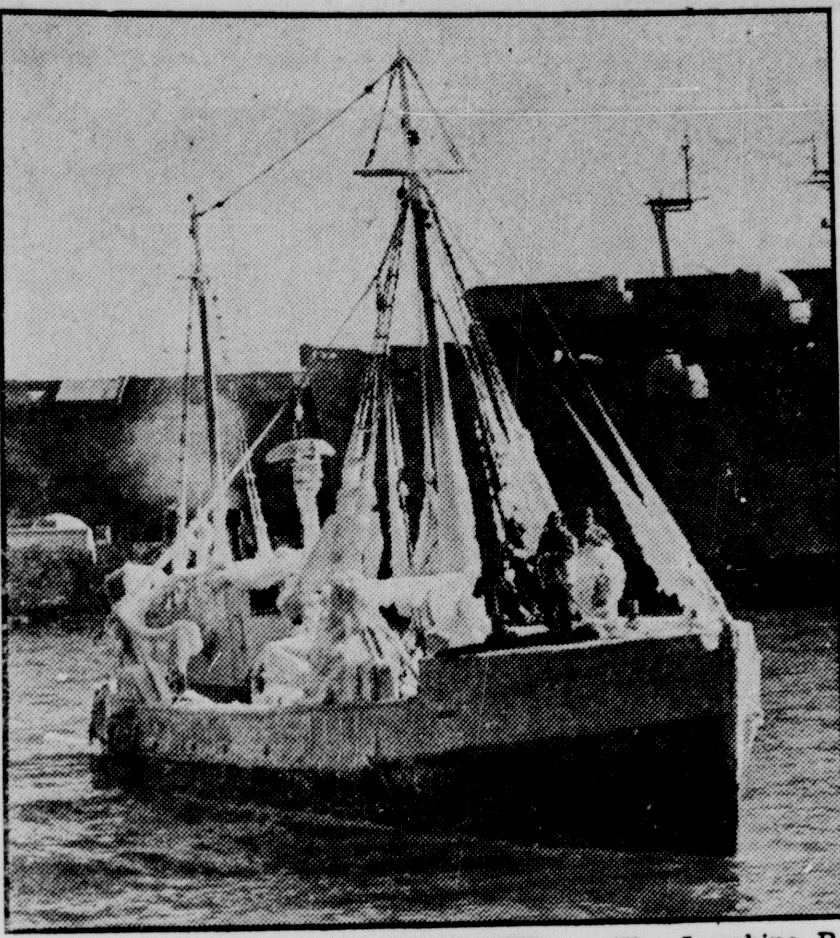
Needless to say, we were grateful for this courtesy, but I think the lady superintendent was much more pleased at being able to do this. From the actions that took place, I concluded that the assistant had been dispatched to confer with a higher official to get authority to give us the hose.

In any event, I still have the hose and anyone who wants to see them is certainly welcome.

Immediately after this session we were taken back to the entrance to the mill where a number of employes had gathered to bid us goodby. These employes and the superintendent and her assistants allowed us to take pictures of them and then all joined in bidding us farewell.

I think in all fairness it should be said that in all of our visits through the factories and manufacturing establishments, there was very little, if any, evidence of hatred upon the part of the employes in these places.

They were all very nice to us and did not reflect the dislike for Americans that might be indicated by the actions of some of their leaders. It was experiences of this kind that led me to the conclusion that the rank and file of Russian people do not want war but would much prefer a simple and peaceful life. Let us all hope that this attitude prevails over those who would bring about conflict.



DEEP-FROZEN AND PREPACKAGED — The Josephine B comes home to Boston as frozen topside as her cargo of fish below decks will soon be, after riding out a northeaster on the fishing grounds. In background a warship, her turret mechanisms "mothballed" and ready for quick conversion to fighting trim if needed, rides out the winter at her storage berth.

Land Agents Talk To City Lions Club

Lanham Nelson and A. C. Youngblood, agents for the county in purchasing right of way for the expressway, talked to the Canyon Lions club last week.

"We think the buying has gone very well, and we think everyone is pretty happy," Youngblood said. He said only four parcels of land between Canyon and Happy are left to complete right of way buying on the widening of that highway.

Youngblood said that up to now there has been plenty of money available to buy the right of way. Nelson said he believed there would be enough to purchase all the needed right of way by adding all money gotten from sale of salvaged property.

Nelson said he didn't believe the delay in beginning purchases has affected the price. "I don't think it is costing anymore now that it would have a year ago," he said.

Visitors to the club were Frank Black, Amarillo, Bob Black, Plainview, Bill Brundage, Canyon, and Harold Millerman, California.

Help Keep Canyon Clean!

A Wheel Chair Churchman

HOW WONDERFUL, if there were no troubles or handicaps to worry or disturb us. Failing of our eyes, or the need for crutches, or the necessity for a wheel chair — these could make our lives richer and our faith stronger. By nature we are imperfect. When we go it alone, we are not capable of perfect decisions nor deeds. There is one greater than we who stands ready, willing, and anxious to help us. To Him we must look for guidance; and we can best understand His will for us by attending His Church here on earth. Go to church this Sunday and every Sunday, even if it must be in a wheel chair. It takes our contributions, our prayers, our presence.

Both our church and our faith grow when we are in the pew.

HOLY BIBLE

YOU IN THE CHURCH
THE CHURCH IN YOU

Character is a by-product of the church. It is here that young and old alike are showered with benedictions that fortify and influence for a better citizenship and a stronger democracy. In the church the ministerial are molding religious character. Statesmen today declare that the church alone can furnish leadership to handle the affairs of state in these perilous times. Then we with our children should go to the church of our choice on Sunday. "You in the Church and the Church in you" form a combination for good. Be a regular CHURCH-GOER and a daily BIBLE READER.

LIPSTICK LOGIC

BY LOUISE ALLEN

LUBBOCK—Time was when you painted your house white and that was it. Oh, once in awhile someone would try a light gray tone, or occasionally yellow or tan. The woman who had her home painted barn red or dark green was a pretty daring girl.

Within the last few years, however, all that has changed. These days, homeowners go all out for 'different' effects.

We were driving around Sunday afternoon and noticed a nice-looking house, painted moss green with rose-pink shutters. Real cute. As we stopped for the traffic sign, however, we noted one or two things that must have caused the lady of the house internal pain.

First place, on that corner there was a yellow-and-black stop sign. Close by was a mail box — once olive green but now bright red and blue. A few feet away was an orange fire plug! The overall effect, when you stopped to analyze it, was downright scary.

We don't suppose the state highway department, the city fire department, and the U. S. postoffice officials could be persuaded to allow such public necessities to be painted to suit the mood of the homeowner in each case. But it does look as if a truce could be struck.

Maybe they could seek out some corner home whose owner likes orange — set up a fire plug there. They could scout around for a pale yellow house to favor with their traffic signs. And surely there are enough white houses left to take care of the red-and-blue mail-boxes, for patriotic effect. We aren't just sure how this will work out for fire and traffic safety, and the relieving of weary postmen's loads. But we certainly can't ask the ladies to give up their bright-colored homes. Anything to please the ladies, we've always heard!

Club Will Sponsor Drive Breakfast

In the first business meeting of the year, the Canyon Home Demonstration Club voted to have a "Come-as-you-are" breakfast to raise money for the March of Dimes drive.

The members also decided to continue the club meetings in the morning.

Following the coffee hour provided by Mrs. Bill Wilson, hostess, secret pals were revealed by the exchanging of gifts and names drawn for secret pals during the coming year.

Prichard-Davis Married Recently In Formal Pampa Church Ceremony

The First Christian Church of Pampa was the scene for the recent marriage of Alta Jane Prichard, daughter of Sherman Prichard, 516 Cook, Pampa, to Lee W. Davis Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Lee W. Davis of Post. The Rev. Richard W. Creaus, pastor, read the double-ring service.

Decorations included palm trees, candelabra and arrangements of pink gladioli. In the center was placed a kneeling bench. For the nuptial prelude, Mrs. Charlotte Frankmer, organist, played "Claire de Lune," "I Love You Truly" and "Because."

Jerry Sloan, soloist, sang "Sweet Mystery of Life" and "The Lord's Prayer" as the benediction. Traditional wedding marches were used.

Diane Prichard, cousin of the bride, was maid of honor and Vivian Wilkinson of Pampa was bridesmaid. They wore dresses of pink crystalline, styled with fitted bodices, draped necklines and bouffant waltz length skirts. Frame hats with nose-length veils matched their dresses and they carried crescent bouquets of gladioli showered with pink and rose streamers.

Serving as best man for his brother was Sol Davis of Post. Ushers were Olin Saulsbury of Wichita Falls and Jess Carnell of Post.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attired in a white gown of antique silk and imported Chantilly lace. The gown was fashioned with a fitted bodice featuring a neckline trimmed with sequins and pearls, long sleeves which came to points over the hands and tucked silk cummerbund at the long torso waistline.

Panels of lace extended from the cummerbund to the hem of the skirt which swept into a train. Her veil of illusion was attached to a lace covered pillbox hat outlined in seed pearls and sequins. The bride's jewelry consisted of a simple strand of pearls, and she carried a white Bible topped with a cascade of white roses and stephanotis.

The couple will be at home at 1921 27th Street, Lubbock.

The bride graduated from Pampa High School and has attended Texas Technological College, Lubbock, and Texas Christian University in Fort Worth. The bridegroom graduated from Post High School and is a senior at Texas Tech.

On a bus two shop girls were heard discussing the art of conversation.

"Mame," said one, "take 'I'll say' and 'I'll tell the world' away from some people and you cut their conversation practically to zero."

To which her companion enthusiastically rejoined, "I hope to tell you! Ain't it the truth?"

AUTOMOTION

Two men from up the creek boarded one of the new double-deck Greyhound buses. As they sat down near the door, the more adventurous of the two spied the stairway.

"I believe I'll climb up and see what's on top."

In a moment he came hurrying back, plodded down by his partner and said breathlessly:

"Stay where you are! There's no driver up there."

Now that the holidays are past, manufacturers who turn out gold-plated golf tees, mink-rimmed shaving mugs and other such exotic items can go back into a state of suspended animation for another year.

Contrary to what the horsey set says, a bookie is a man who runs a bookshop. New York City police recently raided a haunt of bookworms and turned up a thriving nag-betting service.

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

OUR SOIL ★ OUR STRENGTH

ANNUAL REPORT

December 31, 1955

The petition for the organization of this district was circulated in the last part of 1953 and the first part of 1954, with 105 landowners signing the petition.

The first hearing on the formation of the district was postponed because the boundary lines of the district were to be changed to include a part of Potter County. About 20 farmers attended this meeting.

The second hearing was held, with 30 farmers attending, and the vote was to form a Soil Conservation District on the present boundaries, which include all of Randall County and the southwest part of Potter County. The election was held in the fall of 1954, with the following results: about 65 for the formation of a soil conservation district and about 10 against.

O. F. Armstrong, Field Planning Engineer for the Texas State Soil Conservation Board, met with a group of farmers in Canyon, and Marshall Rockwell Jr., in subdivision No. 4, and Frank Begert in subdivision No. 2 were appointed as supervisors for the Randall-Potter Soil Conservation District.

In January of 1955 an election was held to elect the other supervisors and R. C. Sampson Jr. of Bushland was elected in subdivision No. 1.

The other election in subdivisions 1 and 4 was postponed, and in February J. W. Spencer in subdivision No. 3 and C. V. Conatser in subdivision No. 5 were elected supervisors. The certificate of organization was received Nov. 25, 1954.

The supervisors of this district are as follows:

J. W. Spencer, chairman, subdivision 3; C. V. Conatser, vice chairman, subdivision 5; R. C. Sampson Jr., secretary, subdivision 1; Frank Begert, member, subdivision 2; Marshall Rockwell Jr., member, subdivision 4.

Regular meetings are held at 7 p. m. on the first Tuesday of each month, in the SCS office at the courthouse, Canyon.

The first meeting for the fiscal year, which was the first meeting of this board of supervisors, was held on March 11, 1955, and during the year there were 10 more meetings with an average attendance of approximately 90 per cent.

Most of the work of this district has been in developing the program and plan, which will be finished and approved at the February meeting.

Two tours were held in conjunction with the Farmers Home Administration on their soil and water loans.

During the year eight news articles were published in The Canyon News, and the announcement of the election and program held in October were carried on KGNC radio station. About five articles were carried, on the notice of the election for creation of this district and the results of this election.

The following people and organizations were helpful in assisting the supervisors with the program and plan:

Boone McClure, Luther Geiger, Dr. Ima Barlow, Woody Ponds, Mrs. Dan Sanders, T. L. Devin, Dr. L. F. Sheffy, John Brazzil, Gene Southall, Rev. Win Matsler, Mel Armstrong, Mrs. Otis Parker, Mrs. Ed Harrell, Roland Black, W. H. Upchurch, Mabel Ray, Jim Line, Joe G. Batson, Forrest Gruner, Mrs. Cecil Simms, Otis Parker, F. G. Collard, Melvin Leavitt, Marshall Rockwell Jr., W. P. Janssen, J. D. Breitling, Frank Begert, Extension Service, Soil Conservation Service, Agricultural Stabilization & Conservation Service, and Vocational Agriculture Teachers, Canyon Public School.

The board wishes to express appreciation to State Senator Grady Hazlewood for time spent in preparation and starting the petition to form a district in Randall and Potter counties.

The following people or firms contributed to the district for the purchase of 1200 copies of the booklet, "The Why, What and How of Soil Conservation Districts":

Myers Farm Equipment Co., F. M. Kinney (City Blacksmith Shop), Heath-Lawless Oliver Co., Taylor & Sons, Thompson Hardware Co., A. B. Duncan (Guaranty Abstract & Title), Hosea Foster Insurance, Warren's by W. A. Warren, David Horn (West Texas Motor Co.), Paul Lindsey (Lindsey Motor & Impl. Co.), T. A. Black Dry Goods Co., Taylor-Evans Farm Store.

There are about 890 landowners in this district, with about 546,460 acres of agricultural land and a total area of 606,760 acres. At the present time the district has five district cooperators with 4,414 acres of land under agreement. The Board of Supervisors are working with the FHA and ASC in obtaining new cooperators.

The supervisors of this district are all cooperators and have completed the following practices on their farms:

Contour farming, 160 acres; cover cropping, 50 acres; rotation hay and pasture, 6 acres.

The supervisors are applying more practices to their farms this year.

There is no watershed protection or flood prevention work in this district as yet.

This district does not have any funds to promote district work.

The Soil Conservation Service and State Extension Service are assisting the board, and other agencies have been invited to attend the board meetings.

This district is faced with the problems of management of irrigation water, terrace construction on dry land, and wind erosion. The people need to have a better understanding of Soil Conservation Districts and their purposes.

It is believed that at this time the district has enough technical and educational help, but when the district finishes the program and plan it is anticipated that more technical help will be needed.

The board needs financial help, but at present there is none available.

The ability of landowners to carry out conservation practices is limited, due to lack of moisture for the past three years. The farmers have not produced a good crop due to these conditions. The rainfall in Canyon this year has been 11.74 inches, compared with an average of 20.0 inches.

County Reports Show Dairymen Can Increase Production With Efficiency

COLLEGE STATION—Reports from 185 Texas counties covering the participation of dairymen in basic dairy practices indicates that milk producers can further improve their efficiency of operations.

The dairymen were asked whether they were keeping private herd records; storing and feeding silage; utilizing summer and winter temporary pastures; feeding hay year-round and raising herd replacements.

Extension Dairy Husbandmen R. E. Burleson and A. M. Meekma say that less than 4 per cent of the Grade A herds in Texas are enrolled in a dairy herd improvement association and that registered cows on official test represent a very small per cent of the total cows in the state.

This means only one thing—there is a great need in most counties for a private herd record program. They point out that no dairyman can breed, feed or wisely manage without records.

Participation in another basic practice, storing and feeding silage, was also low. About the greatest hazard to dairying in the state, according to the specialists, is uncertain rainfall.

From the feed standpoint, silage, as a feed reserve, or irrigation are possible answers to drouth. Until the moisture supply can be controlled, pasture alone will not get the job done and even with top pastures, many dairymen have found that feeding silage pays off.

More dairymen in the 185 counties followed the practice of utilizing summer and winter temporary pastures than participated in any of the other basic practices.

They and all dairymen are urged by the specialists to continue this practice. They point out that the best feed at the lowest cost comes from pastures.

Less than half of the dairymen reporting showed they were feeding hay on a year-round basis or were raising herd replacements. Both practices, say the dairymen, should draw much greater participation.

CORRECT

A Boy Scout was being asked questions on the points of the compass—north, south, east and west.

"Now," said the scoutmaster, "if you stand facing the rising sun, the north is on your left hand, the south to the right of you. What would be behind you?"

"My knapsack, sir," came the quick reply.

A BARGAIN

"I say, you gave that cloak room attendant an enormous tip," said the business man to his friend as they left the restaurant.

"Naturally," said the friend, "look at the splendid coat he's given me."

"Ha, drunk again!" snorted his ever-loving wife in disgust.

A silly grin spread over Jones's face as he replied: "Well, if I ain't, I've been gypped outa seven bucks."
